Pittsburgh Steelers vs Denver Broncos NFL Week 9 Predictions: The fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High will be treated to a game between the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Denver Broncos when they take their seats on Monday night at 8:35 PM ET. The Pittsburgh Steelers didn't get off to a strong start this season, but the defending Super Bowl champions are now playing at a high level. Pittsburgh goes for its fifth straight victory Monday night, when it looks to snap a three-game losing streak to a Denver Broncos club trying to bounce back from its first defeat of the season. My NFL week 9 predictions say give the points the Steelers are playing well and are a better team than the Broncos. The NFL Week 9 Predictions experts at online sportsbook Bodog.com have the Pittsburgh Steelers -3 point favorites on the road against the Denver Broncos.

The Steelers defeated Minnesota 27-17 as a 6-point favorite in Week 7. The combined score fell UNDER the posted over/under total (46.5). Ben Roethlisberger, third in the NFL with 2,062 passing yards, threw his 11th touchdown of the season, while the Steelers' defense scored twice in the fourth quarter - a 77-yard fumble return by linebacker LaMarr Woodley and Keyaron Fox's 82-yard interception return with one minute remaining. The NFL Week 9 Predictions experts at Bodog.com have the Broncos vs. Steelers Total set at 39.5 points.

The Broncos lost to Baltimore 30-7 as a 4.5-point underdog in Week 8. The combined score fell UNDER the posted over/under total (42.5). Kyle Orton passed for 152 yards with no touchdowns and no interceptions for Denver, while Knowshon Moreno rushed for 39 yards and a touchdown on 10 carries.
